MERCHANTS ARE AWAKENING.

According to the Goldfield Tribune of Sunday, the merchants of that city are awakening to the catalogue evil and are preparing to protect their own interests. The paper of that issue contains five pages, of which three pages are devoted to full page ads, while several other half-page and quarter-page advertisements were also to be noticed. The merchants quoted prices on almost every article advertised, realizing that this is the only plan in which to place their wares directly before the people.

The southern papers have stated several times during the last few months that Goldfield is rapidly assuming the appearance of the "old Goldfield," and this appears to be true if the advertising in the Tribune can be taken for anything. The prosperity of a community can be gauged by the amount of advertising carried in the local papers, and this applies equally as well to the case of Goldfield.

SECRETRRY OF NAVY URGES

Because the Portsmouth, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk yards have accessible dry docks of which we have too few, it is found impossible to give up and of them. Port Royal has a dry dock unapproachable for battleships or even cruisers and the Charleston dock is likewise useless as the channel fills in at the rate of three or four feet a year. But in regard to a final recommendation as to other yards and auxiliary stations on the Atlantic coast, save those specifically named for abandonment, the secretary says he awaits the recommendation of the joint board of the army and navy.

On the Pacific coast Secretary Meyer finds the Bremerton yard at a disadvantage through its lack of railroad communication and its distance from any large supply of labor. But its further development is regarded as a necessity in view of the fact that the fleet at some time after the opening of the Panama canal may be based in the Pacific ocean.

The Mare Island navy yard is very severely criticised for its inaccessibility, both on account of its great distance from San Francisco and the shallowness of the channel. The very muddy water of the San Pablo bay is also said to work great havoc with the condensers of the warships. No battleship injured in action could be taken to Mare Island even for temporary repairs nor could the yard be reached by a number of the heavy battleships or heavy cruisers even when uninjured. But as $14,000,000 has already been spent on this yard, the secretary thinks that in order to avoid a total loss it would be wise to utilize it for such vessels as can reach it and also for such manufacturing and repair work for the larger vessels as can readily be sent to the navy yard and returned to the vessels lying in San Francisco bay. In looking to the future he says that it will be necessary to establish a docking and repair station for battleships on San Francisco bay in some locality yet to be selected, and meanwhile the fleet must depend upon Puget Sound, although there should be more than one yard available. Pearl Harbor will be made the principal insular defense base in the Pacific Ocean; Olongapo, in the Philippines, is to be a small repair station and the station of Cavite is to be disposed of, its tools being transported to Olongapo.

Following the established policy in the matter of annual naval construction, the secretary recommends the authorization of two battleships, two colliers, one gunboat, one river gunboat, two sea-going tugs, four submarines and one submarine tender. He strongly deprecates any break in the established policy because of its evil effect on the shipyards of the country upon whose maintenance the navy must depend in time of war. The small cruisers and gunboats are becoming useless through age and while the department desires to minimize expenditures on such vessels of slight military value, a certain number are absolutely necessary for police duty, surveying and other work incidental to times of peace.

NO ASSESSMENT IS ANTICIPATED

Many questions have been asked on the streets and elsewhere as to coming assessments on the leading Comstock. It can be stated upon the very highest authority that no assessment will be levied upon Consolidated Virginia this year, and if certain reserves of ore that are believed to be valuable can be reached within the next month or two the treasury of the company will be largely replenished. Mexican, however, will be assessed on December 6, the day of the annual meeting. No assessment need be feared on Ophir stock for quite a time to come.—Chronicle.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY EAGLES' LODGE

WILL BE INSTALLED AT FIRST MEETING HELD IN JANUARY

At the last meeting of Tonopah Aerie No. 271, Fraternal Order of Eagles, an election of officers was held and the members chosen who will conduct the affairs of the order for the coming year. Following the election the members present held a banquet. The installation of the new officers will take place on the first meeting night in January.

The officers elected were as follows: Ed Malley, past worthy president; H. H. Atkinson, worthy president; John Hawke, vice president; John Gallagher, chaplain; W. L. Moore, secretary; O. Perry, treasurer; E. Miller, inner guard; R. Temple, outside guard; George Schmid, H. J. Wildegrube, J. Bohn, trustees; Dr. C. J. Richards, aerie physician.

PERSONAL MENTION

Bob Christian was a Goldfield visitor this afternoon.

County Commissioner W. C. Humphrey came in from Manhattan yesterday afternoon to attend the meeting of the board which convened today.

Mrs. Fred A. Burnham, wife of Manager Burnham of the Tonopah United Water company, who has been visiting friends on the coast, returned today.

R. A. Lennon, J. F. Byrne and William Ferris came over from Blair yesterday to attend the Elks memorial services. They returned to their home last evening.

W. C. Stevens, president of the First Exchange bank of Rawhide, who arrived Saturday from that place, left yesterday morning for Round Mountain and Manhattan.

F. H. Norcross, chief justice of the Nevada supreme court, who delivered the oration at the Elks' memorial yesterday afternoon, left this morning for his northern home.

Tom Hurley and plug hat, came over from Goldfield this morning and will be here a week, having been secured by the management of the Butler theatre at a great expense.

Ray Baker, resplendent in his robes of red, green and brown, came down from Reno Sunday and will tarry in our midst for some time. His itinerary calls for a trip to Ebehebe, which he will undertake shortly.

R. J. Highland, of the Southern Nevada Abstract company, left this morning for Sacramento and San Francisco to be absent about ten days. On his return Mr. Highland will be accompanied by his mother, who is now living in Washington.

COMMISSION GETTING LOCATED

The Nevada state railroad commission has nearly completed the moving into the new quarters opposite the state capitol and will soon be doing business at the new stand. When completed the new quarters will be much better than the old.

WILD ANIMALS ESCAPE ON BOARD SHIP

The officers and crew of the Atlantic Transport liner Minnewaska, which arrived in New York the other day after a stormy passage, had a rather exciting and strenuous time during that trip and the passengers were mighty glad to leave the ship upon its arrival. The Minnewaska carried part of a menagerie on her lower deck forward, including a fine Bengal tiger, a "sacred cow and other large animals from tropical countries. During the voyage the tiger managed to break out of his cage and he made a fierce attack on the "sacred" cow. Naturally there was consternation among the passengers and crew on its becoming known that the big tiger had escaped from its cage and had the freedom of the lower deck. It required the combined efforts of the menagerie men and some members of the crew to drive the tiger back to his cage and to secure him properly. The cow which had been attacked and badly bitten by the tiger, died from her wounds. A day or two after that incident one of the hyenas escaped from its cage and caused more consternation on board.

RESULT OF CARELESSNESS IN ADDRESSING MAIL.

Over thirteen million pieces of mail matter were sent to the dead letter division of the postoffice department last year, a large proportion of which could not be delivered because of carelessness in writing addresses. This means many millions of careless people in the United States.
